✓ History

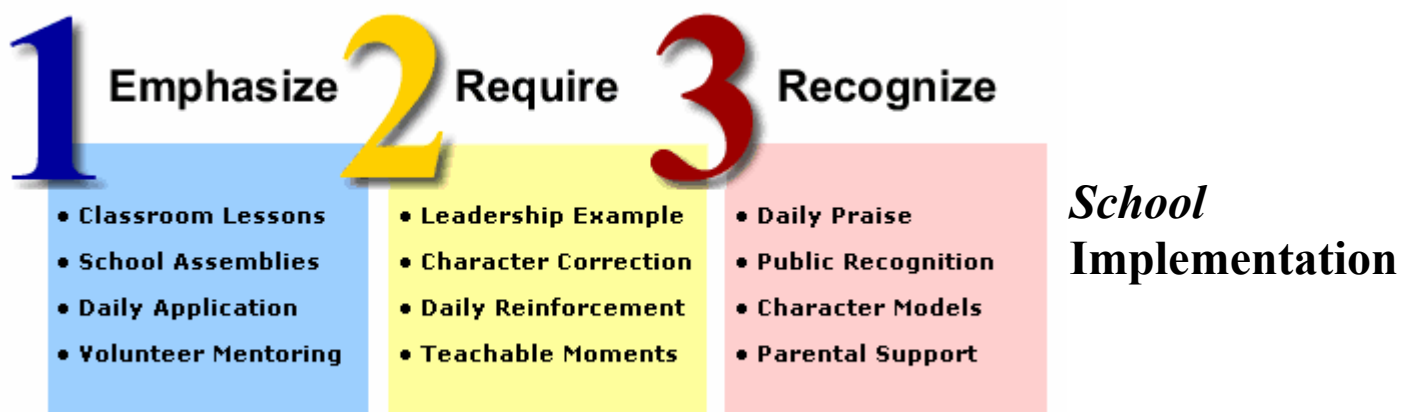

In 1999, Character First! became available in Australia. Schools & parents around Australia are beginning to see lasting benefits in this curriculum for Primary, Secondary, & Youth Groups, as well as in the home. Many families have benefited from the Character for Life Family Seminar & over 90 Australian schools are using the Character First Education Curriculum & Business Resources.

✓ Easy to Start

Character First! can be applied straight away with the user friendly starter kit for Dads, Mums, & schools. Now in over 2000 public schools in 19 countries around the world, as well as thousands of families, including private and public, day care centres, children's shelters and orphanages. We offer resources for both secondary schools as well as primary schools.

✓ Implementation

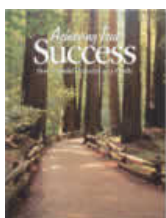

The Character First! Education program follows a 3-step approach to help schools and colleges build positive character qualities in both staff and students:

1. Emphasise each of its 45 character qualities using specific definitions, practical applications, captivating stories from nature and history, memorable songs, and a variety of age-appropriate activities, crafts, and object lessons. Most schools study one character quality each month, (this equals 9 qualities per year). This provides schools with 5 years of character lessons before repeating. Leaders are trained to deliver Monthly emphasis with available tools & develop a culture of character within the organisation.

2. Require good character from both the staff and students. Everyone in a school is held accountable for their actions, and when discipline problems occur, teachers trace their students' actions back to the character qualities they failed to demonstrate. Hiring, Mission Statements, Vision & Purpose, Policies, Behaviour Management & Performance are all Character-based.

3. Recognise staff and students for their character both at random and according to set schedules. Young people starve for approval and attention, but instead of praising just their achievements, such as high grades or athletic ability, teachers should point out the character qualities that enable successful achievement. Building a positive culture based on praise, affirmation, & appreciation is the hothouse for growth whilst training in good character principles becomes a way of life.

A Character School or Family can use the beautifully produced book, "Achieving True Success", to build awareness as well as develop the character traits, by regularly applying the character quality to each area of their lives. Neighbours, families, communities, & cities are seeing the benefits of this exciting book.

Character First! Education is a tool to aid in teaching and every other area of our lives. Character promotes a positive learning environment with fewer distractions with teachers have more time for studies.

✓ BENEFITS FOR FAMILY AND SCHOOL

- ✓ Strengthens Family Relationships
- ✓ Reduces Sibling Rivalry
- ✓ Positive Role Models and Attitudes
- ✓ Systematic Recognition of Good Character
- ✓ Increased Student Cooperation
- ✓ Reduces Bullying and conflicts
- ✓ Fewer Discipline Problems
- ✓ Positive Learning Environment
- ✓ Boosted Academic Achievement
- ✓ Heightened Staff and Family Unity

“Character First! has given me the reassurance that there are likeminded persons who recognise the deficits in youth-adult relationships. This program breaks down the barriers between staff, students, parents, and guests of the school.” - Constable Fiona Hill, School-Based Police

“I was able to understand how character permeates the whole person.”- Bev Randall, Covenant College

“I see Character First! as a worthwhile program that will help us realise our vision to be a school of excellence.” - Principal John Mortimer, Eastern Goldfields Sr. High School, Kalgoorlie

“As educators of the 21st Century, most of us see the importance of raising children to be good citizens rather than just clever people. To me, Character First! offers the best possible method of developing good character in the lives of young people.” - Principal Jacob Matthews, Lighthouse Christian College,

“Any situation can be resolved by using the right character traits. Excellent for the workplace!” - Graeme Wilmot, Managing Director, Wilmot Engineering

“Character First! is the best initiative I have seen in business because it encourages us to focus on that which really matters – our people and their good character!” - Frank Costa, Owner & Founder of Costa’s Fresh Produce, President of Geelong Football Club

Character First! Education is very flexible. A new character quality can be presented weekly, biweekly, or every month. The qualities can be introduced using assemblies, individual classrooms, or around the family room or dining table in the home. In fact, anywhere you see good character it can be recognised.

✓ Resource Materials

Colourful 16 page character booklets have been developed for the parents as well as Primary and Secondary teachers, backed up by web activities.

Collectible Character Cards are designed to give to the children as a reminder of each character quality.

Achieving True Success designed to grow a Family of Character.

Pocket Guides set the standard by giving 49 Character Qualities and their definitions

✓ Training

Parent and Teacher in-service training is available and strongly recommended so the classroom teacher can be as effective as possible in implementing the character training. Please contact the Character First! Australia office for a brochure as well as information associated with in service training.

Parents and Volunteers can be trained to assist the classroom teacher in the introduction of each new character quality. The teacher can then reinforce the character quality throughout the week or month. Open community training is available across Australia for parents, teachers, and educators.

✓ Costs

Costs are surprisingly reasonable! Call the Character First! Office for school and bulk discounts. Training Costs: $148 per person plus yearly subscription to Monthly Bulletin $70 for 12 issues.

✓ Three Foundational Principles:

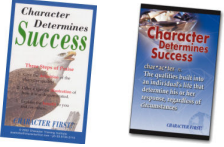

1. Investing in the lives of others to help them become successful & reach their full potential.
2. Applying the character qualities to our lives in a systematic way.
3. Modeling good character ourselves and praising others for character rather than achievement.

✓ What to do next:

Parents can order the materials, receive a Resource Guide, or information on upcoming open trainings. Educators or Government officials interested in Character First! should call or contact Character First! Australia in Drysdale at the address above 03 5253 3272 to begin the process. Introductory packets of sample curriculum are available for $10.00 each covering Primary, Secondary and Business or Home Bulletins.

“CHARACTER FOR LIFE” – Family Seminar

Does Your Family Qualify?

Character is important for people of any age all around the world. Qualities such as creativity, patience, and generosity benefit the lives of both children and adults. Therefore, every family—regardless of size, social status, race, religion, or situation—can benefit from focusing on building character together.

The Character Family idea is simply a tool that families can use to focus their lives around qualities that bring success. It is designed, not to be a burden or “something else” to add to a busy schedule, but as a way to view life from a positive perspective and strengthen the family. Any family can build character!

Imagine your children singing songs about how truthfulness is “gaining future trust by accurately reporting past facts.”

Imagine your son or daughter going up to clean their room—so he can be like an orderly chipmunk.

Imagine your daughter settling a dispute out on the playground—because she had studied forgiveness that month.

Imagine going to work and being praised by your supervisor—not so much for making that big sale, but for demonstrating initiative and creativity on the job.

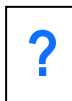

Imagine your young adult son coming home from work all aglow—because his boss took a personal interest in his employees and shared with them the rewards of attentiveness.

If you answered “YES” to one or more of these questions and believe that character is important for your family, then you qualify to become a Character Family!

Do you have occasional tensions in your family?

Are there things about other members of your family that irritate you?

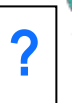

Do you tend to collect clutter around your home?

Do you sometimes wish you could be in a different family?

Do you find it hard to maintain a schedule in your daily activities?

Is it difficult to get the whole family together for even a simple meal?

Would you like to experience...

- Fewer disciplinary problems and happier children!
- Your family working as a team!
- Effective communication and cooperation!
- A sense of appreciation between family members!

Annual Bulletin Subscription

Developing character is a life-long process. By subscribing to the monthly bulletin, everyone in your organisation can focus on one character quality each month! Each bulletin provides practical information, stories, and questions to help you apply each character quality in your workplace and community.

The monthly bulletin focuses on workplace issues, such as customer service, safety, quality, productivity, sales, economics, conflict resolution, communication, teamwork, and leadership. The last page of the bulletin addresses life issues, such as personal relationships, family dynamics, finances, stress, health, community, and personal growth.

Members' Library – Included!

The Character First! Members' Library provides a vast resource of videos, stories, leadership tips, posters, and family materials. With over 1,000 original articles, crafts, and inspirational stories on all 49 character qualities, here are the ideas and tools you need to inspire yourself and others!

Active bulletin subscribers receive unlimited access to the Members' Library.

Price includes 12 issues and US shipping.
